

SAKSHAM EVO- E10

Evo E10 is a daisy player specially designed to be a complete audio substitute for print material and is specifically designed for people with “print disability”, including blindness, vision impairment. The device feature audio recorder and the player with inbuilt support to reading digital books in various formats like text, docx, doc, PDF, DAISY, EPUB, Daisy Audio and MP3 audio. The user can read the books in 16 Indian languages including Indian English, Hindi, Marathi, Bengali, Tamil, Telugu, and Kannada in high- quality human-like voices.

The device offers full navigation support to the users. Playback speed can be increased or reduced as per the preference of the user.

EVO- E10 can be used for easily recording lectures in the classroom or taking meeting notes, in addition to reading books in Indian languages. The device has an in-built wifi receiver it enables listening to internet radio and podcast as well as direct download and reading books from online digital libraries like Sugamya Pystakalaya and Bookshare. It also has utilities such as talking alarm clock, Talking Calculator, Talking Compass, FM Radio and music player.

SPECIAL FEATURES

- Supports online software upgrade
- Keypad operated
- Portable device connected to online libraries and reads computer document and audio files in Indian languages.